ALBEMARLE NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL INSTITUTE.

This Institution, which was established Nineteen years ago by Miss Frances E. Ufford, of New Jersey, and Miss Helen J. Northrup, of Minnesota, is under the control of a Board of Trustees elected by Mecklenburg Presbytery.

The aim of the Institution is to prepare young women for the actual duties of life—for teaching in our public schools, for the duties of the home, or for entrance to higher institutions of learning. Full recognition is given to the fact that this is, above all, a Christian school, and its object the development of character training for service in the extension of the Kingdom of God. The Bible and Missions are taught in every department.

The school is finely situated on an eminence above the town of Albemarle, and commands a view of the town and surrounding country. The health of the pupils is carefully guarded and physical culture is given to all.

COURSES OF STUDY.

There are four courses of study. Preparatory, Normal, College Preparatory, and Business Course. The Normal and College Preparatory cover three years of thirty-six weeks each.

A certificate is given on completion of the studies of the Preparatory Department, but no diploma will be conferred until the completion of the entire course. To enter the Normal Department requires one year of Latin, completion of Grammar-School Arithmetic, Geography, United States History, English and North Carolina History, High School Grammar, Physiology, and Physical Geography. This covers a Grammar-School course.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Training in this department is given in cooking, practical sewing, and general house work. The domestic work of the household is done by the students as part of their training. The average length of work is one hour per day. Facilities are provided pupils for doing their own laundry work, and special rates are offered to the students by the local steam laundry.

ORGANIZATIONS.

The Young Women's Christian Association is a strong feature in the life of the school, and exerts a powerful influence in the building of Christian character.

Young People's Branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union not only establishes the members in firm principles, but fits them for active service in this great cause after leaving the school.

There are two literary societies: The Ufford and the Northrup. Each pupil is supposed to become a member of one of them.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Board and tuition are $20.25 per quarter of nine weeks each. Each pupil is required to pay in advance a medical fee of $5.00, which will cover physician's charges and nursing, except in cases of protracted illness. Each student buys her own medicine. Aid is furnished to a limited number of girls who are unable to reach these figures, after the pupil has proven herself worthy of it, on condition that she remain through the school year. Otherwise she must pay for the time she has been in the school at the rate of $20.25 a quarter. Those receiving aid must sign a contract similar to the following:

"I.....promise to refund to the Normal and Industrial Institute, as soon as I am able, the money which has been advanced to me from the Student Aid Fund during my stay at the Institute."

Applications to be addressed to Rev. Geo. H. Atkinson, Albemarle, N. C., the applicant stating whether she can pay the full amount or desires aid.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, we can not refrain from speaking of the generous and hearty support which the school has received from societies in the churches of our Presbytery.

We would also return our grateful acknowledgments to our generous friends, North and South, who have continued their aid to needy and deserving pupils, enabling them to remain in school that they might the better fit themselves to be teachers and leaders of others.

Finally, we desire to make thankful acknowledgment of the prosperity which has attended our school during the year, and above all, for the many tokens of our Heavenly Father's blessings with which He has favored us.
